Tests: indirect object (pronoun) + direct object.

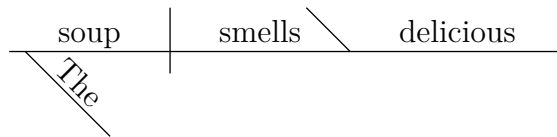

Test 0.9: “The teacher sent the students a warning.”

Tests: indirect object with article modifier.

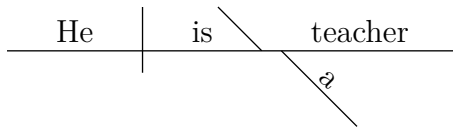

Group 5 — Linking Verbs

Test 0.10: “The soup smells delicious.”

Tests: predicate adjective after linking verb.

Test 0.11: “He is a teacher.”

Tests: predicate nominative with article.

Test 0.12: “The results seem surprisingly accurate.”

Tests: predicate adjective modified by adverb.

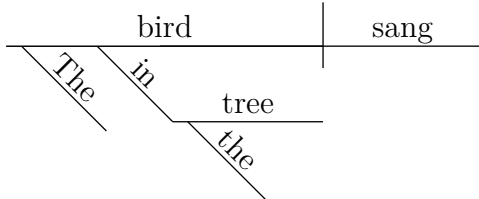

Group 6 — Prepositional Phrases

Test 0.13: “The cat sat on the mat.”

Tests: prepositional phrase modifying verb.

Test 0.14: "The bird in the tree sang."

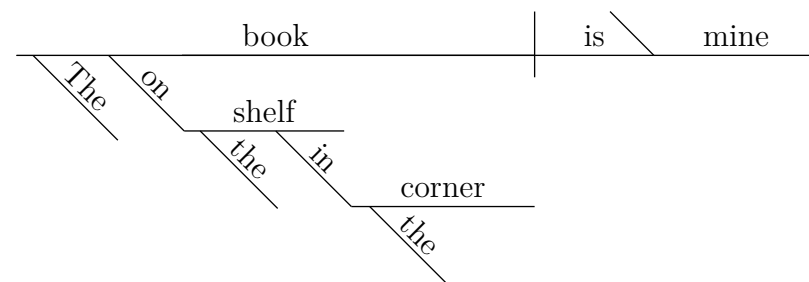

Tests: prepositional phrase modifying subject noun.

Test 0.15: "She ran into the old barn near the river."

Tests: prepositional phrase modifying the object of another prepositional phrase.

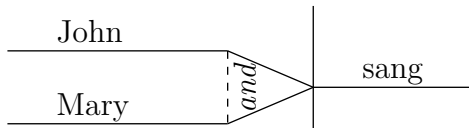

Test 0.16: "The book on the shelf in the corner is mine."

Tests: nested prepositional phrases (prep phrase modifying object of another prep).

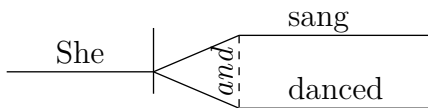

Group 7 — Compound Elements

Test 0.17: “John and Mary sang.”

Tests: compound subject with coordinating conjunction.

Test 0.18: “She sang and danced.”

Tests: compound predicate.

Test 0.19: “The dog chased cats and birds.”

Tests: compound direct object.

Test 0.20: “He painted the wall but not the ceiling.”

Tests: compound object with two-word conjunction but not.

Group 8 — Appositives

Test 0.36: “Rapid swimming exhausts him.”

Tests: gerund as subject with adjective modifier (post auto-height).

Test 0.37: “She is good at running quickly.”

Tests: gerund (with adverb modifier) as object of a preposition.

Test 0.38: “Swimming is fun. (forced post height via gerundPostH)”

Tests: `\rkset{gerundPostH=2.5cm}` forces the vertical bar to 2.5 cm regardless of word height or modifiers. Reset with `gerundPostH=Opt` to restore adaptive behaviour.

Test 0.39: “Rapid swimming exhausts him. (extended lower shelf via gerundShelfExt)”

Tests: `\rkset{gerundShelfExt=1.5cm}` extends the lower shelf and triangle foot 1.5 cm to the right, giving modifier slants more room.

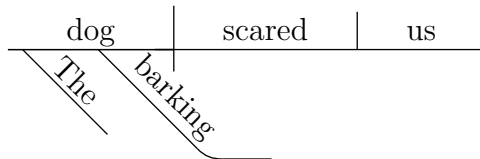

Test 0.40: “Rapid swimming exhausts him. (both gerundPostH and gerundShelfExt combined)”

Tests: both gerund controls combined. Reset both with `\rkset{gerundPostH=Opt, gerundShelfExt=Opt}` afterwards.

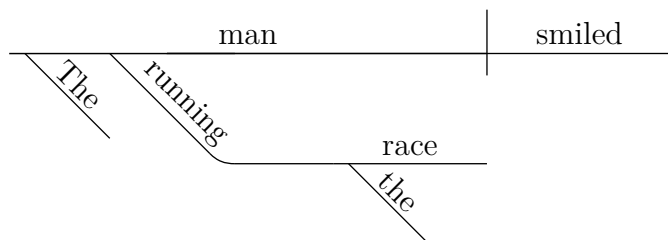

Group 13 — Participles

Test 0.41: “The barking dog scared us.”

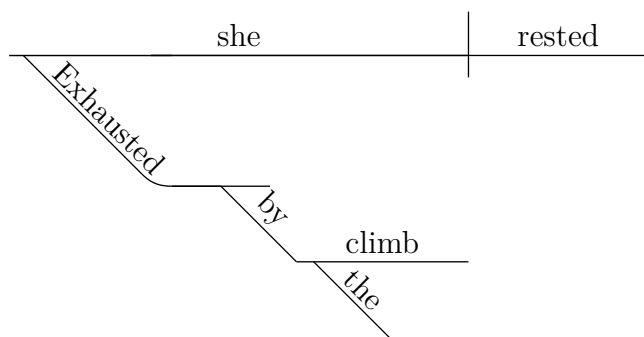

Tests: bare participle (no tail) modifying subject noun.

Test 0.42: “The man running the race smiled.”

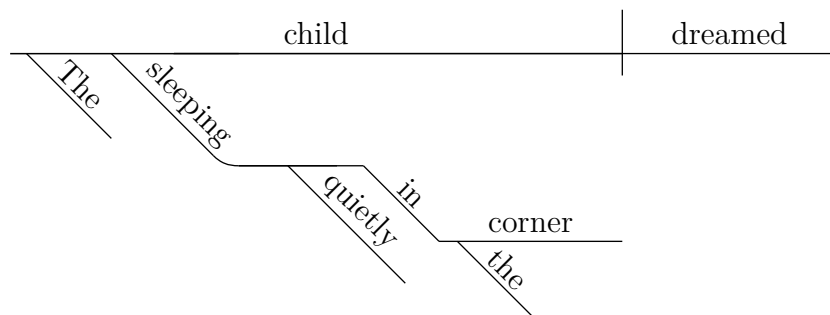

Tests: participle with participial object on horizontal tail.

Test 0.43: "Exhausted by the climb, she rested."

Group 15 — Nominative Absolutes

Test 0.54: “The battle over, the soldiers retreated.”

Tests: bare nominative absolute with adjective on noun.

Test 0.55: “The sun setting, they departed.”

Tests: nominative absolute with adjective on noun.

Test 0.56: “His work finished, he ran.”

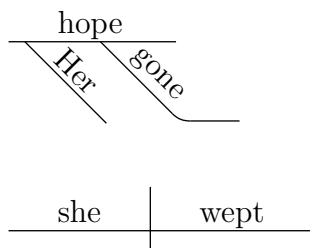

Tests: NA with participial object on tail.

Test 0.57: “His staff grasped in his hand, the old man walked the long road slowly.”

Tests: NA with modifier chains on main clause (vertical clearance).

Test 0.58: “Her hope gone, she wept.”

Tests: NA with no participle (empty ptcl-word, implied being).

Group 16 — Manual Spacing Controls

Test 0.59: “Dogs bark. (default spacing for reference)”

Baseline: auto-width lines, no adjustments.

Test 0.60: “Dogs bark. (wider subject line)”

`\rkSlotWidth{4cm}` before `\rkSubject` forces the subject line to at least 4 cm.

Test 0.61: “Dogs bark. (gap before verb)”

`\rkSkip{1.5cm}` before `\rkVerb` inserts a 1.5 cm gap in the baseline (extends the subject line rightward).

Test 0.62: “The cat chased the mouse. (widen verb and object lines)”

Both verb and object lines forced to 3.5 cm minimum — useful for aligning words on parallel diagrams or leaving room for annotations.

Test 0.63: “She gave him a gift. (skip before indirect object platform)”

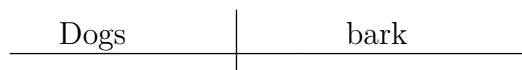

`\rkSlotWidth{3cm}` on the verb widens it to give the indirect-object platform more room.

Test 0.64: “The cat sat on the mat. (longer prep slant)”

`\rkSlantLen{2.5cm}` before `\rkPrep` forces the “on” slant to 2.5 cm — useful when the prep label is long or when more visual separation is needed.

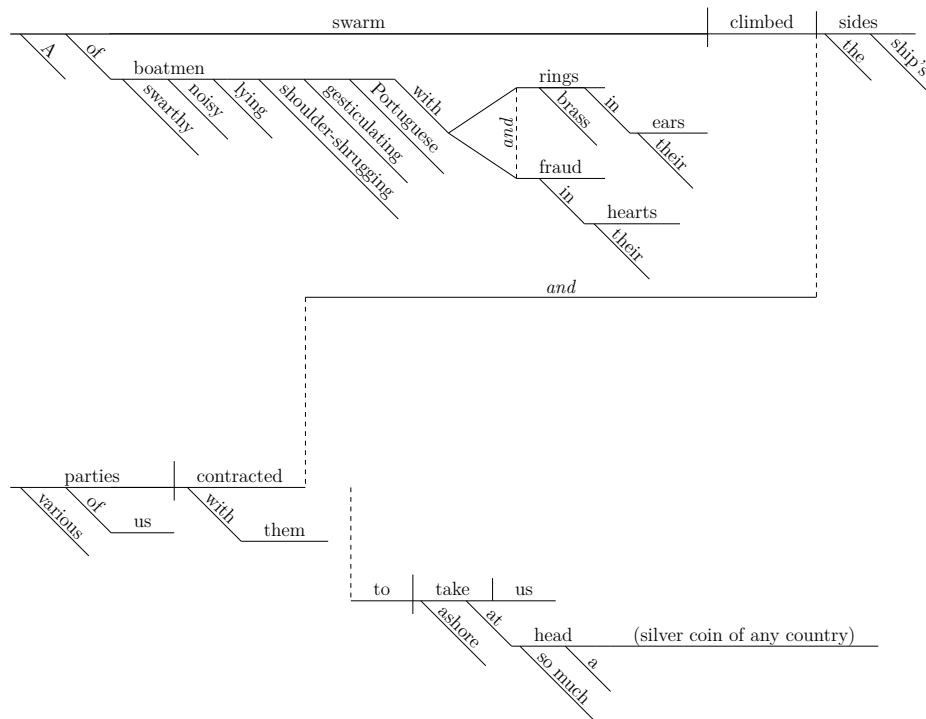

Test 0.65: “Dogs bark. (combining skip and minwidth)”

Both controls used together: 3 cm subject, 0.8 cm gap, 3 cm verb — each resets automatically after its slot.

Group 17 — Mark Twain Stress Test

Test 0.66: “A swarm of swarthy, noisy, lying, shoulder-shrugging, gesticulating Portuguese boatmen, with brass rings in their ears and fraud in their hearts, climbed the ship’s sides, and various parties of us contracted with them to take us ashore at so much a head, silver coin of any country.”

(Mark Twain, The Innocents Abroad, 1869)

Group 18 — Stress Test: Nabokov

Test 0.67: “As he crossed toward the pharmacy at the corner he involuntarily turned his head because of a burst of light that had ricocheted from his temple, and saw, with that quick smile with which we greet a rainbow or a rose, a blindingly white parallelogram of sky being unloaded from the van—a dresser with mirrors across which, as across a cinema screen, passed a flawlessly clear reflection of boughs sliding and swaying not arboreally, but with a human vacillation, produced by the nature of those who were carrying this sky, these boughs, this gliding façade.”
